"OUR AMERICAN HERITAGE" is the theme of the 1963 Tunneltonian depicted here by our custodian, Mr. David Miller.

Tunnelton High School

Tunnelton, West Virginia

1863-1963

Our School Salutes W. Va.

We hereby dedicate the 1963 Tunneltonian to our beloved state, West Virginia. The staff of The Tunneltonian joins with all West Virginians in celebrating our State's 100th Anniversary.

The bear is the official state animal. He is seated on a sugar maple leaf, which is the official state tree. Perched on the end of the rifle is the state bird, the cardinal. The bear is sniffing a rhododendron, which is the official state flower. The coonskin cap which adds a touch of personality is designed to call attention to the fact that Daniel Boone once roamed this state and knew these mountains and valleys long before they were named West Virginia.

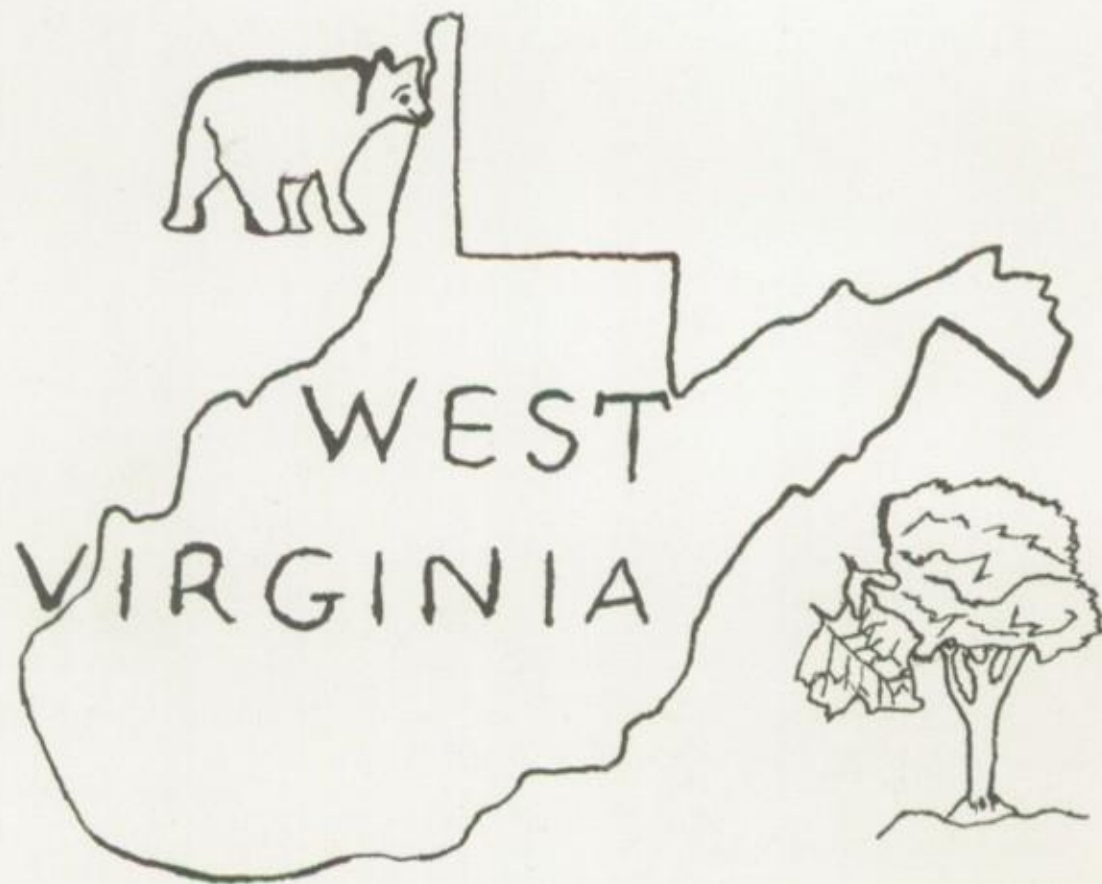

West Virginia, born during the agony of the Civil War, is now ready for its Centennial . . . a year long celebration of 100 years of statehood.

West Virginia became the 35th state on June 20, 1863. Its start is unique in American history since it is the only state in the Union born out of the emotional, social, and economic conflicts of the Civil War.

With loyalty and thanksgiving at this anniversary time, reverently we hold close to our hearts the 35th star to love and to cherish. This star is West Virginia, the home of our people - the workshop, the playground, the offices of commerce, the halls of learning and of healing, the houses of worship, the parks, the mines and quarries, the rivers and the timber, the great reserves of gas, oil, coal, and power, the manufactories, and the mountains.

In a sense West Virginia has grown from the vast terrain of a mountainous wilderness to a picturesque setting of industrial, cultural, and thriving valleys. Its people have sensed this movement from a period of exploration in the hills to one of the same in the universe. A progressive spirit has characterized this movement and has found our state in the position of seeking the most solid orbit of travel.

During this year, many activities and events will be taking place in our beloved state. If we, the people, participate in the Centennial activities, we will make possible a birthday celebration worthy of our past and dedicated to the future.

A black and white photograph of Independence Hall in Philadelphia. The building is a large, multi-story structure with a prominent clock tower and a dome. In the foreground, to the right, is a large statue of a man standing on a pedestal. The name "LIBERTY" is visible on the pedestal. Several people are walking in the plaza in front of the building. The sky is bright and there are trees on the left side of the frame.

As you steer your course in life, you'll find life more pleasant as a result of advances made by the electrical industry.

Americans today are finding more and more uses for flameless electricity - in homes, in business, and in industry.

Electricity today is a greater bargain for your family than ever before. It's one of the few items that has not increased in cost in the last few years.
